Elite Series Induction Cooktop

Product Overview

Satisfy your taste for adventure...

Available in single or double element models, the Suburban Elite Series Induction Cooktop features is engineered for portable use or built-in countertop applications, so you can cook with more precision and efficiency.

Unlike traditional cooking appliances, an induction cooker creates a powerful magnetic field that interacts with ferrous based cookware. This interaction causes the cookware to generate the heat rapidly, safely, and efficiently.

With the Suburban Elite Series Induction Cooktop, countertop installation is a breeze and can be easily lifted out and placed on a table or any safe and sturdy surface making it ideal for use in RVs, campgrounds, cabins, kitchens - almost anywhere you have access to a 120v AC outlet. Both compact, sleek and stylish units are energy efficient, include an auto safety shut off and a Child Lock safety feature.
